Dear Counsels,

The Single Judge refers to the email decision below in which she ordered the Defence to file a redacted version of filing [REDACTED] and shortened the deadline for any responses.

Having reviewed additional submissions by the Defence, the Single Judge considers that the Defence filing mentioned below may maintain its ex parte classification.

The Single Judge therefore considers that no further observations from the other party or participants are required at this point.

Kind regards,

On behalf of the Single Judge of Trial Chamber X

Dear Counsels,

With respect to the [REDACTED] the 'Request') filed on 21 April 2020, the Single Judge takes note of the arguments advanced by the Defence for maintaining a confidential ex parte classification.

While the Defence need not lay bare its full strategy for why [REDACTED] and nor does it need to disclose such strategies to the other party or participant, having reviewed the Request, the Single Judge considers that the Prosecution and LRVs are already aware of the [REDACTED] relevant to the present Request as a result of other filings (including [REDACTED]).

The Single Judge further notes that, while having different legal bases, the documents which are the subject of the Request and the reasons put forward by the Defence in support of the Request are interconnected with other motions that have been submitted before the present Chamber, and that those motions have been made available to the other party and participants.

For these reasons, the Defence is instructed to file a confidential redacted version of the Request and its annexes by 28 April 2020 at 16:00.

Furthermore, pursuant to Regulation 34 of the Regulations of the Court, the Single Judge decides that any responses to the Request, if any, should be subsequently filed by 4 May 2020 at 16:00.
