Subject: Request for a page-limit extension

Dear Trial Chamber I
Dear Colleagues

The Prosecution respectfully requests an extension of the page limit for one of its applications under rule 68 from the 20 pages previously authorised by the Chamber (see Email from Trial Chamber I, 23 December 2021 at 08:23 copied below) to 40 pages.

The rule 68 application in question pertains to 21 witnesses relevant to the Deleig incident. While the Prosecution will keep the request concise and avoid repetition, it will not be able to cover all of the necessary information relating to these 21 witnesses within the current 20 page limit. In the interests of judicial economy, the Prosecution wishes to include all 21 witnesses relating to this same incident in one application, rather than splitting the application into several parts in order to comply with the page limit.

The Prosecution therefore requests that the page limit for this application be extended to 40 pages. The Prosecution has consulted with the Defence, which has kindly indicated that it does not object to this request. The Prosecution is grateful to the Defence for its agreement.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Best regards

Hesham Mourad

Subject: Request to extend page limits of Rule 68 filings to 20 pages

Dear Trial Chamber I,

Dear Colleagues,

The Prosecution respectfully requests an extension of the page-limit for rule 68 filings from the 12 page-limit ordered by the Chamber to the standard 20 page-limit provided for in regulation 37 of the Regulations of the Court.

The Prosecution is preparing a number of filings under this rule and in doing so, it groups similar witnesses in each filing for efficiency and to avoid repetition of common arguments.

The Prosecution considers that the standard page-limit under regulation 37 of the Regulation of the Court would assist the Prosecution to avoid repetition and reduce both the total number of filings and the overall page count for all applications under rule 68 of the Rules.

Accordingly the Prosecution submits that this request. While seeking to increase the page-limit per filing, it aims to ensure judicial economy and to reduce the overall page count for this category of filings.

Following consultation, the Defence has kindly indicated that it does not object to this request. The Prosecution is grateful to the Defence for its agreement.

Thank you.

Best regards,

Julian
