Dear Colonel Adaka

Since I have not heard back from you since Friday in response to my email (below) I am writing to confirm that you did in fact receive it. Can you please let me know?

As you know we asked all the legal representatives to provide their inputs regarding common legal representation by today, since we are operating on a very short deadline from the Chamber. However of course we acknowledge that owing to your absence from the meeting on 20 May (the minutes of which you didn't receive until 24 May) and given that we directed additional questions to you only on 27 May, you may require some more time. Can you please indicate to us when you believe you can provide us with any further input in writing, and in particular responses to the questions set out in my email below? It would be very useful if you were able to respond to us by Wednesday 1 June.

As mentioned previously, Fiona, Isabelle and/or I are also available to discuss these matters with you by telephone if that would be helpful.

Of course we are sure you will appreciate that the specific questions put to you in my email of last week are not intended in any way to indicate a view of the Registry, but rather are asked in order to ensure that you are given an opportunity to give your input on important matters which have either been raised by the defence (conflict of interest) or appear particularly pertinent in the present case (access to your clients).

Please don't hesitate to contact Fiona, Isabelle or myself should you have any questions.
